

InterPlay
unlock the wisdom of your body

accepting 15 emerging artist/activists from diverse backgrounds ages 18-40

Art & Social Change

InterPlay for Millennial Leaders

An active, creative way to unlock the wisdom of the body

Two-Week Program • Monday–Friday, July 9–20, 2018

InterPlayce • Oakland, California

Play hard at the intersections of race, class, gender and environmental health.

InterPlay is accepting 15 emerging artists, age 18–40 from Oakland and other parts of the US and the world and who are ready to

- do good and feel good
- explore big issues through art
- help others without losing one's own mind, body, heart or spirit
- be part of a cutting-edge global movement
- learn the way of improvisation
- and connect with affirming mentors

The Program

InterPlay is a philosophy and practice that builds artistic skill and leadership ability and develops strong community. InterPlay is also a world-wide network of artist-activists who believe in their ability to change the world through freedom of expression. Developed over the last twenty-five years by Phil Porter and Cynthia Winton-Henry, InterPlay is a practice that teaches groups and individuals to tap into their artistic authority and positively affect other people.

Art & Social Change is seeking the next generation of artist-activists—leaders to take InterPlay's "sneaky deep" playful practices of improvisational movement, storytelling, poetry, voice, and music into new places.

Gain the "how to's" of InterPlay's holistic framework for using performing arts in group development to unlock wisdom, share resources, build bridges, heal, and make peace...all while having FUN. The program certifies participants as graduates of the InterPlay Life Practice Program and qualifies them to pursue training as certified InterPlay leaders.

Deadline for application
Friday, June 1, 2018

The InterPlay Approach to Art & Social Change

- Do you want to make a difference in the world?
- Are you as interested in people-making almost as much as art-making?
- Is there a place for "soul" in your vocabulary?
- Are you more interested in solutions than in problems?

Cofounders Cynthia Winton-Henry and Phil Porter are international leaders recognized for developing InterPlay as a potent system and global community of "players." InterPlay's multi-disciplinary creative methods are used in daily life, relationships, performance, therapy, ritual, business and education. You will learn easy and elegant tools to access your movement, voice, storytelling, theater, stillness, music, and contact.

This workshop is designed for Millennial artists and activists interested in studying with members of InterPlay's San Francisco Bay Area arts community. It provides a unique setting to play with contemporary personal, political and cultural issues using InterPlay's revelatory, improvisational, community-based techniques.

- The program exposes you to a fearlessly innovative style of community art and performance focusing on improvised ensemble, duet and solo forms which combine movement, storytelling and voice.
- You will develop skills in leadership, community development and self-care that are crucial for effective social change.
- This dynamic workshop develops your artistic strengths through affirmation, supports competency in other art forms, and provides practice for using community art forms for social change.
- You will strengthen your intuition and unlock your own wisdom by using the philosophy and practices that have grown out of the InterPlay philosophy.

What is InterPlay?

InterPlay is an active, creative way to unlock the wisdom of the body. By fostering our natural movement, voice, and storytelling capacities, InterPlay taps ancient and empowering ways of building community for times like these. It strengthens individual and group identity, resilience, intuition, teamwork, and creative gifts. We discover healthy, sustainable routes to change. InterPlay's commitment to gender and racial equity and transformation is central to this practice.

The program places a strong emphasis on community by creating connections with:

- mentors that can provide not only artistic training but support for leadership development
- other millennial participants who can provide future support
- other members of the InterPlay community, a strong network with an interest in art and social change
- advocates in the student's home community who can help make it possible for students to attend.

Daily Schedule

Sessions will go from 9 am to 5 pm, Monday-Friday with some additional evening events. Lunch will be provided. The days will be very full! The first week will be devoted to basics. During the second week participants will have opportunities to explore and expand their chosen artistic interest and get support for their dreams and visions.

Mornings

Learn storytelling, movement, voice, music and contact practices with Agnotti Cowie and Natalie Abdou.

Learn the 8 InterPlay Tools for success in community art and receive focused affirmation in a chosen art medium.

Afternoons

Experience using InterPlay to address issues like racism, the environment, gender, trauma and others that you are involved in with InterPlay co-founders Cynthia Winton-Henry and Phil Porter. You will also learn from InterPlay leader and Grassroots Spiritual Practitioner Soyinka Rahim and other InterPlay leaders. Explore the development of your own art and social activism.

Evenings

Meet Oakland members of the InterPlay-based WING IT! Performance Ensemble. Create a performance/celebration with the other students in the program to which the InterPlay community will be invited (Thursday, July 21). Some other evenings (but not all) may have programs.

Tuition

Tuition for the two-week program is $1400. This includes all training sessions and week-day lunches. Dinners, additional entertainment and transportation costs are not included. Housing is not included in the tuition. Limited housing is available. Contact the InterPlay office (510/465-2797) for housing suggestions.

In order to foster the sort of community connections that are important to any artist-activist, we suggest that participants have an advocate (a teacher, mentor, friend or family member) who is willing to recommend and help them secure funding for the program from their local communities.

We will also work with participants to complete the registration process and meet the tuition requirements. Scholarships are available. A Tuition Proposal is included in this packet of information.

We will notify you about your acceptance within two weeks of the application deadline. Accepted individuals will have until Friday, June 8, 2018, to confirm their attendance, make a deposit of $200 and submit a tuition proposal and/or tuition payment plan (monthly installments are acceptable). Total payment or a first installment will be due by Friday, June 29, 2018.

Checks should be made payable to "Body Wisdom, Inc." (Body Wisdom, Inc., is InterPlay's non-profit incorporation.) You may also pay by credit card by calling the Body Wisdom/InterPlay office (510/465-2797).

How to Apply

The first step is to indicate your intent to register by emailing Agnotti Cowie at agnotti@interplay.org.

In that email, please include:

- a brief resume that lists your address and phone, and any arts, communication and community volunteer experience. Include the name of any production, your role or crew assignment and the name of the producing organization (e.g. high school, community theatre, college). List any additional formal or informal training. Also list any of your community involvement or interest in social action.
- A photo
- A one page personal statement describing your interest in this workshop.
- Agnotti will be in touch to set up a Skype call to meet you and answer any questions.

Please do the above first before taking any of the following steps. We'll be in direct contact with you (phone or Skype) to assist you with the next steps, which will include the following:

1. Have a mentor, art teacher or InterPlay advocate recommend you in a one page letter that describes your talents, experience or abilities in the arts. The letter should also address your personal attributes, such as initiative, reliability and ability to work well with others. Have them send it to InterPlay for Millennial Leaders, 2273 Telegraph Ave, Oakland CA 94612, or email agnotti@interplay.org.
2. Complete the Registration Form.
3. If seeking tuition support, fill out the Tuition Proposal which is included.
4. Send in your tuition deposit of $200 (by June 8).

We will have you send all materials no later than Friday, June 1, 2018 to:

InterPlay for Millennial Leaders
2273 Telegraph Avenue
Oakland CA 94612

Email Agnotti Cowie at agnotti@interplay.org with questions or to set up a phone conversation.

Where does the program take place?

The program takes place at the InterPlayce Studio in Oakland at 2273 Telegraph Avenue in downtown Oakland, California, three blocks from the 19th Street BART (rapid transit) station.

I'm an international student. Can I attend?

International students are welcome. Tuition is the same as for US residents and tuition proposals are accepted.

I cannot afford to attend. What can I do?

Scholarships are available. Complete the Tuition Proposal and enclose it with your written statement and completed Registration Form.

I am under the age of 18. Am I able to attend?

No, but please contact us so that we can keep you informed of future programs.

I can only attend one week. Can I still apply?

It is not possible to attend for only part of the two-week program.

It's past the deadline to send in my application. Can I still apply?

To apply past the deadline, contact Agnotti@interplay.org via email to see if applications are still being accepted. It may be possible to apply after the deadline date if space is still available.

Once I have applied, when do I know if I get in or not?

You will be notified of acceptance no later than one week after the application deadline. In some cases, you may be notified as soon as a week after we receive your application materials.

What else do I need to do to prepare?

All accepted students will receive a packet with everything they will need by the first day of the training.
